

Dear Member:

I am pleased to announce the 2007 inductees to The Fly Fishing Hall of Fame. We had an overwhelming response from the members when we asked for nominations of major contributors to the sport of fly fishing. More than thirty men and women were named for consideration for the 2007 Hall of Fame. Thanks to your input, the committee had a great list of names.

After due deliberation, the Nominating Committee selected the following candidates for induction into The Fly Fishing Hall of Fame in 2007:

Robert Redford

Norman Maclean

Preston Jennings

Julia Freeman Fairchild

Lou Tabory

Martin J. Keane
