

Make A Moc Workshop
Saturday, September 8, 1PM
with Leather Craftsman John O'Meara

Class size limited to 10

Learn to make a pair of hard-soled Plains type moccasins with Leatherman John O'Meara. John will provide some historical background on a variety of Native American Tribal moccasins. This presentation will show the adaptability of the pattern to be developed for each individual. All materials and tools will be supplied. For those wanting to construct mocs for others, simply trace the outline of a child's foot, (or for whom they would like to make a pair), Patterns will be available to match up with the outline of the traced pattern. When tracing the child's foot, they should make sure the child has on a pair of heavy socks, and keep the pencil vertical. Do not trace under the toes or foot by angling the pencil.

Each class participant will leave at the end of the program with a pair of moccasins that will fit like a glove and feel sooo...comfortable.

Please email or mail your class reservation back ASAP to get a class spot. Complete fee $20, all materials and tools provided
